Homeland Security Training

Who needs it?

Office moving companies, office building managers, directors, companies planning a move, and in-house move crews.

Why?

Because the workplace has changed. Since office buildings have proven to be soft targets for terrorists and other criminals, who have used box trucks to deliver weapons of destruction, building managers expect every member of your team to be vigilant about vulnerable areas and recognize when something isn't right.

The Benefits.

sales & marketing Your IOMI® Homeland Security Certificate improves moving company marketability, plus being a trusted member of the building manager's team means more tenant referrals. Displaying your IOMI® Homeland Security certificate along with your IOMI® Certified Office Mover® certificate tells prospects you're tops in the industry.
operations No disruption, take the training at your convenience 24/7. Improve company credentialing and accountability of assets.
affordable Train your entire crew for one low price.
